

TEXAS STATE UNIVERSITY
DEPARTMENTS OF MUSIC & MATHEMATICS JOINTLY CELEBRATE
MATHEMATICS & STATISTICS AWARENESS MONTH

MUSIC & MATHEMATICS

Creativity & Innovation

Friday
May 3, 2019
2 – 3:30 p.m.
Music Building
Recital Hall

This lecture-recital will contain performances by Italian cellist Dr. Francesco Mastromatteo and a lecture by Dr. Nico Schüler on relationships and interactions between Mathematics and Music with numerous examples, emphasizing the creativity and innovation of mathematical approaches to composing, performing, and analyzing music.

This event is targeted at a general audience (no math or music prerequisites!), and it is free and open to the public.

Dr. Nico Schüler

University Distinguished Professor of Music Theory & Musicology
Texas State University

TEXAS STATE
MATHEMATICS

Reception
with the presenters
will follow.

Dr. Francesco Mastromatteo

Cellist, Artistic Director of Classical Music for the World in Austin and Associazione Amici della Musica
“G. Paisiello” in Lucera, Italy

Thank you to the event sponsors:
Common Experience, Texas Mathworks, Department of Mathematics, Department of Music.